

Launch of the CNBS Website

The Consortium of LusoAfro-BioEthics was created to strengthen capacity for health research ethics review in African Lusophone Countries (ALC). Within the objective of enhancing the efficiency of clinical/health research applications reviews, the Consortium Coordinator (Comite Nacional de Bioética para Saúde - CNBS) is finalizing the development of the website with the support of the Ministry of Health-Mozambique. This website is projected to be launched in December 2020 and shall connect all initial nine Institutional Review Boards in Mozambique and another additional five in the preparation stage.
